

Mailboxes and door entry systems

'A match made in...the UK!'

In recent years the pressure has increased for Secured by Design, Fire Rated and Heavy Duty items to be used within modern construction to improve its service and protect both the property and importantly those living within it.

We aim to bring you the best solutions in these areas.

As suggested in the New Homes Guide 2010, as part of the Secured by Design initiative, the protection of persons and property is paramount and recommendations are in place to ensure these areas are adhered to on virtually any property.

Mailboxes and door entry equipment form part of the essential components of any multiple tenancy build, from Social Housing to high profile prestigious developments, these products can work in harmony or alone, to suit any site location and profile.

The use of mailboxes on single dwellings or multiple occupancy developments provides reduced access to a property, as is strongly recommended. The deviation from the traditional letterflap and replacing with mailboxes externally or in a communal area is said to be the way forward in providing security of occupiers and property. The option also exists to conform to SBD guidelines by fitting a Flaplock™ onto those properties already fitted with existing letterflaps.

Take this a step further, and the use of Fire Rated mailboxes in such developments particularly high density properties, also satisfies the demands of the fire officer.

Within the mailbox location the door entry systems and doors themselves all support the same message of Secured by Design recommendations.

A bank of heavy duty mailboxes (with the options of fitting with a gap restrictor to reduce the aperture size) plus anti vandal push buttons and door entry system, can provide even the most vulnerable of locations with a secure and durable solution. No entry to unauthorised persons, safe and secure mail and a door entry system that will withstand the most challenging of situations.
